

BEHIND 'CLIMATEGATE'

THE FBI & YOUR CELL PHONE

MARCH 1, 2010

Newsweek®

IF THE REPUBLICANS WERE IN CHARGE

THE GOP'S PLAN TO
COUNTER OBAMA'S AGENDA

$5.95 US
$6.95 CD/VI/PR/BM
09>
01134
0 706285 8

‘Would you consider moving to Canada or possibly even Russia in the event of this happening?’

A Saudi Arabian student, in a question to Hillary Clinton, on the chances that she would emigrate if Sarah Palin became president.

‘Sucks.’

JOHN PODESTA, who led President Obama’s transition team, on how he rates the health of the American political system.

‘Well, Mr. Big Brother IRS man, let’s try something different; take my pound of flesh and sleep well.’

JOE STACK, in a lengthy online rant he is believed to have written before flying a plane into a building in Austin, Texas, that was home to a local IRS office.

‘It ought to go with a healthy dose of thanks to George Bush.’

DICK CHENEY, refuting Joe Biden’s recent assertion that the Obama administration deserved credit for ending the war in Iraq.

‘I don’t know where his truck actually took him, but he should be stopping in places and getting the facts from the thousands of people who have had jobs retained or new jobs created as a result of this.’

Massachusetts Lt. Gov. TIMOTHY MURRAY, contesting Sen. Scott Brown’s recent claim that the stimulus bill hadn’t created a single job for the state.

‘I’m way fat ... But I’m not THERE just yet.’

Director KEVIN SMITH, in a tweet, after getting kicked off a Southwest Airlines flight because he didn’t fit into his seat properly.

